17.40 End of Day One

18.00 Evening Reception

Here you have always read the following text in prior to Corona:

"Following the official part of the conference, Chem-Academy invites you to a social evening reception at an atmospheric local restaurant. Benefit from the informal surrounding to intensify business contacts and extend your network."

We are in good spirits to get together in the circle of compliance professionals at least as light-heartedly as the general social circumstances allow. Since autumn 2021, we have again been gaining more experience with people (and not just with screens), and we are keen to build on this. What we can say is: For those who feel comfortable, we would like to deepen the social gathering in a responsible framework.

Chem-Academy: Know-how zu Chemie und Pharma

Chem-Academy organizes conferences and seminars on current topics in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. Our events are characterized by a high practical relevance and experienced speakers from the operational practice, authorities and the science. Our participants and speakers represent the entire spectrum of the chemical and pharmaceutical industry, i. e. manufacturers, the pharmaceutical and chemical traders, downstream users and service providers. The Chem-Academy deals with those questions that cannot be answered without further ado by helpdesks, the study of legal texts or other generally accessible means.
